A creative edge

Innovative designing approach opens an array of careers in sectors like fashion, clothing, jewellery, footwear and even industry. Basics of drawing and visualisation are essential for aspirants to succeed.

A Correspondent

C areers in design thrive greater pas
ticles each before students today. Designers across genres have always been in demand, be it fashion or product design, and Indian designers have earned praises for their innovative designs. With the ever-evolving design world, aspirants could leverage their passion in this field.

The Times of India

New Delhi: The Times of India, in association with MIT Institute of Design, Pune, and Avantika University, Ujjain, organised ‘Design Connect’, a seminar, in Bengaluru.

A Correspondent

T he Times of India, in association with MIT Institute of Design, Pune, and Avantika University, Ujjain, organised ‘Design Connect’ in Bengaluru. The career event was supported by the Association of Designers of India (ADI) and the Indian Institute of Interior Design (IIID). The event was aimed at guiding aspiring students and professionals in choosing design as a career and providing insights into the design industry. The seminar provided an overview of the design industry, its challenges, and opportunities.

The seminar featured a panel discussion with renowned designers, architects, and industry experts, sharing their experiences and insights into the design world. The panelists included experts from various sectors, highlighting the diverse range of careers available in the design industry.

The seminar aimed to provide aspiring designers with valuable insights into the design world, including tips on building a portfolio, networking, and understanding the industry’s requirements.

For further details, please visit designconnect@timesgroup.com.